Submission Text:

Hello,
This is a great idea.

My submission is about accessibility and knowledge. It is important that we are all given the right to know what our rights are. At present, i think it is rather haphazard and unclear as to what are or what are not our rights as individuals.

I would like to see and hear a strong and consistent advertising and education program that tells us all what our rights are and how we can use them effectively.

I am of the understanding that the human rights act was put aside during the Intervention program and I am confused, and as an Australian born caucasian, hurt & confused as to WHY the human rights act was removed through this process and I would also like to understand WHY it has not been put back into place ?

To be honest, if this is true, the whole things smells very very badly.

I would really like the reasoning for this explained properly and honestly
Regards
