

National Human Rights Consultation Submission

AGWW-7QYFXP

Name: Esther Dourado

Submission Text:

Religious freedom is a valued and basic human right. This includes but is not limited to:

The right to speak of one's personal beliefs without fear of prosecution for offending another who has different beliefs.

The right for religious organisations to employ only those who share the same beliefs.