Submission Text:

Dear Officials and Representatives,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Connect Christian Church in Frankston VIC.

It has come to my attention that certain freedoms that have been enjoyed throughout our Christian School system that I trust and believe should be protected. They have had the right to determine who teaches in Christian Schools based on the person having the same convictions as the school has, especially when it comes to religious belief. While some may see it as discriminatory, we do not force inter-religious people into faith's they do not adhere to, this is freedom. It escapes me why someone who isn't Christian would want to teach in a Christian school, but we sincerely believe that this right should be protected to maintain the freedom of religious teaching within these schools.

We trust that you hear the heart of what we're saying, keeping in mind that we love all people. Please protect our schools and churches freedom to practice with their convictions.

Sincerely,
Rev Andrew Drummond
